Changed Plans

It was a quarter of a century this past Thursday, and eight years ago on February 1 that NASA lost the space shuttles Challenger and Columbia when the first exploded a few moments after take off and the second broke up 38 miles above Texas and crashed to Earth. All 14 astronauts on these two missions lost their lives. They had many experiments planned, welcome back celebrations, and plans for the future.

All these plans were canceled for one thing— death. No matter what our plans are, no matter how busy we might be, when death comes, it supercedes all others plans. Plan for death. It will come. Sometimes quicker than we might think.

I did a search for any form of the word “plan” in the King James Version of the Bible. Not once did the words, “plan,” “planning,” or “planned” appear.

It’s not that the Lord does not expect us to plan. Our lives would be a chaotic mess and living from hand to mouth if there was not some planning. We just need to plan with the Lord at the forefront of those plans and make plans for what follows this life. —Marty Edwards❖

A man who had not attended one service of the church in four years told me he had never thought of “quitting” the church. I reminded him that he had (1) withdrawn his presence from its services, (2) refused to give his moral support to the activities of the congregation, and (3) had withdrawn his financial support, for he had not given one dime to help carry on the Lord’s work.

I asked, “What else would one have to do in order to ‘quit’ the church? In case you ever decide that you no longer desire to be a member, what other steps would be necessary for you to take? Just what else would be necessary to ‘quit’ the church?”

As his true status dawned upon him, his expression reflected his sober thoughts. He replied, “Why, brother Nichols, I’ve already quit, haven’t I? Well, I surely didn’t mean to! And I don’t know when I did it, but I’ve quit the Lord and His church. I’ll tell you right now, I’m coming back!”

He did, too. At the next service he was restored and three years later, he was still faithful.

How about you? Have you quit the Lord and His church without resolving to do so? Perhaps no one deliberately decides to quit, while many carelessly drift into backsliding.

If you have (1) quit attending the services, (2) quit boosting the program of activities planned by the elders, and (3) quit giving as God has prospered you to enable the congregation to meet its financial needs, you need to be restored.

[ note] —To “quit the church” as used in the above article simply means to quit being an active part of the church. I, as you probably do, know people who are quick to defend the truth, but they never actively contribute to the work of the church and rarely, if ever, attend. There was no intent to go so far astray, but over the years they permitted themselves to drift farther and farther away.

If you find yourself in this situation, repent and pray for forgiveness and once again become an active member of the Lord’s body. Tomorrow may be too late. “. . . behold, now is the day of salvation.” (II Corinthians 6:2)

—Continue to remember Jean Coffee, Sally Marshall, Jewell Watkins, Jimmy Terry, and Vicki McDaniel.

—Audrey Terry has asked us to continue to remember her son Jimmy Terry in prayer. He is having trouble with the treatments for cancer.

—Let's continue to remember those who are serving in the military. Ruby's nephew, Joel Bozarth, has just arrived in Afghanistan as a field medic. Allen Riffle is also in Afghanistan.

Being human, we often have disagreements with others. If left unattended, these disagreements can easily grow into monumental dissensions that tear family and friends asunder. The resulting feuds are often carried for generations with the original cause forgotten, but the pain lingering.

If you have outstanding arguments with others, follow the advice of Paul in Ephesians 4:26. In this passage he writes "Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath." Even though there are situations and circumstances that cause anger, we are not to sin in our anger. We also have the responsibility to not let the sun go down upon our wrath.

Before you lay down to sleep tonight, call up that friend or neighbor, and offer an unconditional apology. You'll sleep better, and so will they.
