Matthew 26:13, “Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, [there] shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.”

Mark 14:9, “Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, [this] also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.”

The two verses above are very similar. They both are referring to the same event. A woman had taken costly ointment and poured it upon the head of Jesus as He sat at meat. Those about him were filled with indignation and called it a waste because she did this. Jesus said to leave her alone and that she had wrought a good work. He also said that wheresoever the gospel was preached this would be told for a memorial of her.

Think about how profound that statement is. Anywhere the gospel is preached, and throughout all time, this woman will be remembered for this kind act upon Jesus.

Sunday 9 AM & 6 PM — Wednesday 6 PM

Tomorrow is Memorial Day and we remember those who have gone on before. We will possibly place flowers, flags or other items at the graves. You will see small phrases upon the tombstones memorializing the person’s life.

What truly matters and is eternal is what we do for the LORD. It’s not how much a person remembers us or how much we accomplish in this physical life. All that matters is what we do for the LORD. The best phrase to sum up our life is not what is upon our grave marker, but when we hear the LORD say, “Well done, thou good and faithful servant.”

Job 19:23, 24 “<sup>23</sup>Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were printed in a book! <sup>24</sup>That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock for ever!”

Job suffered greatly in his afflictions. He had lost all his material possessions, all his servants and his ten children basically all at once. His wife told him to curse God and die. His friends that visited him had come to the conclusion that he was in great sin. They were no comfort at all. Job called them miserable comforters.

Job was in such distress that he wanted others to know of his great suffering. He desired that his words were printed in a book and even in a more permanent form— written with an iron pen in a rock forever. Job received even more than that. His words were recorded forever in the Bible. Words that will stand forever and never be changed.

Job suffered much but he ever trusted in the LORD. He trusted the LORD so much he said that though the LORD would slay him, he would yet trust in Him. Job's faithfulness and trust in the LORD was rewarded greatly at the end of Job with doubling of his material possessions and ten more children.

But, even more than that, Job's words were memorialized in the eternal word of God to remain forever. He is also mentioned twice in Ezekiel 14 and James 5. Job's faithfulness is a memorial forever for him.

Even if no one ever remembers us once on Memorial Day, it matters not. All that matters is that we live for the LORD. He will remember and reward us at the end according to our works. Revelation 22:12 says, "And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward [is] with me, to give every man according as his work shall be."
